

2018 Genealogy Research Goals & Strategies for the Professionals!

Dr. Shelley Viola Murphy

Bring a pen and pencil or your iPad. It's time to set your genealogy goals and strategies for 2018! Shelley will walk you through some steps for setting goals and strategies to help enhance your research.

Known affectionately as "familytreegirl", Shelley was drawn to family history research by her mother, who provided more information than Shelley knew what to do with. More than twenty-five years later, Shelley has become a genealogy force to be reckoned with. She is a co-founder and faculty for the Midwest African American Genealogy Institute (MAAGI) and a founding member and current president of the AAHGS Chapter of Central Virginia. She is known for her fresh approach to getting started in genealogy research, for her keen methods and strategies for analyzing documents, and for her common-sense approach to time and file management.

Please join us in listening to our very own Shelley Murphy!!! Here are log in details:
